10. (Internal Use Only - PLC) LIAISON Called Jim Cline, Counsel, Subcommittee on Immigration, Citizenship, and International Law, House Judiciary Committee, and discussed the Committee's handling of the disposition of Agency material provided the Committee during its impeachment hearings. Cline stated that files are the property of the House of Representatives under established rules of the House. At the end of the session of Congress during which the hearings were held, all of the impeachment hearings material was sent to Archives. Any access to such material is under the control of the Judiciary Committee. The Chairman of the Committee with the approval of the Clerk has separated Agency material and will be returning it to the Agency. He hopes to make this transfer in the very near future. As concerns access, the Judiciary Committee will present a resolution to allow limited access throughout the Judiciary Committee to that material which remains in Archives. The resolution will state that the material returned to CIA will not be subject to any access. Cline made clear that under House rules, any Member may have access to the material of any committee or subcommittee of the House. This access, however, ceases when committee material is transferred to Archives.
